WORD FORMATION — zadania maturalne CKE

Uzupełnij każdą lukę jednym wyrazem. W zadaniach ze słowem w nawiasie przekształć wyraz podany w nawiasie; w zadaniach z ramką przekształć jeden z wyrazów z ramki (dwa wyrazy są zbędne i nie pasują do żadnej luki). Tekst musi być spójny, logiczny i gramatycznie poprawny. Wymagana jest pełna poprawność ortograficzna wpisywanych wyrazów.

[CKE 2006]

Zadanie 1.

PURR-FECT CLAWS

A cat's claws are vital for its survival in the wild. With these incredibly sharp weapons, the hunter can slash, stab, and pin prey that will become its food. However, these

1.1. (DEAD) _____ claws need to be kept razor sharp for the next kill. To 1.2. (SURE) _____ this, most cats can 1.3. (DRAW) _____, or retract, their claws. When the cat needs them to climb a tree or to slash and pin its prey, it makes the claws stick out of their 1.4. (PROTECT) _____ pockets in the toes. This 1.5. (ABLE) _____ allows the cat to run, walk, and jump without scraping its sharp claws along the ground and keeps them sharp, 1.6. (BREAK) _____ and clean.

abridged from: The Knowledge Factory

[CKE 2007]

Zadanie 2.

Some of the most loaded words in language are those associated with the way society talks about itself, and especially about groups of people whom it perceives to be less 2.1. _____ (FORTUNE) or oppressed. The most sensitive domains are to do with gender and race. During the 1980s, an increasing number of people tried to avoid using 2.2. _____ (OFFEND) words or terms which might be treated as such.

Critics of the trend, which is often referred to as political correctness, argue that the search for a 'caring' lexicon is 2.3. _____ (POINT), as long as the situation which the language reflects does not change. It is not as easy to manipulate language as the reformers think. 2.4. _____ (SATISFACTION) with one term tends to spread to the new word, as has been seen with such sequences as Negro, which became black, then Afro-American, which was finally replaced by African-American.

In the early 1990s, many people reacted strongly to what they saw as a trend towards terminological absurdity. One 2.5. _____ (CRITICISE) of the practice of political correctness is that it threatens the freedom of speech.

Adapted from: "The Cambridge Encyclopedia of the English Language" by David Crystal

---

[CKE 2008]

Zadanie 3.

Each of us carries around a sort of invisible bubble of personal space wherever we go. We think of the area inside the bubble as an 3.1. (EXTEND) _____ of our physical being. Anthropologists have defined the distances that we use in our everyday lives. We use intimate distance with people who are 3.2. (EMOTION) _____ very close to us. On the other hand, we usually feel 3.3. (THREAT) _____ if someone invades this most personal area without our consent. This explains the 3.4. (COMFORT) _____ we sometimes feel when forced into crowded places like buses and lifts. The second spatial zone, called personal distance, is just beyond the other person's reach. At this distance we can keep someone at arm's 3.5. (LONG) _____. The contacts are still reasonably close, but they are much less personal than the ones which occur a foot or so closer.

abridged from: Looking out/Looking in by R. B. Adler, N. Towne

---

WF – Extended Matura

[CKE 2009]

Zadanie 4.

Plans to improve school pupils' diets have been 4.1. _____ (CAUTION) welcomed – but there are 4.2. _____ (WARN) that it may not be enough to address childhood obesity. School meal menus in England will be 4.3. _____ (HEALTH) than before, and all pupils will be offered cookery lessons. But the Association of School and College Leaders said more must be done. Stephanie Valentine, education director of the British Nutrition Foundation, said: 'Cookery lessons would need to be adequately resourced, and staff would need to be trained appropriately, to 4.4. _____ (ABLE) children to develop good cookery skills.' The National Union of Teachers welcomed the 4.5. _____ (ANNOUNCE) from the government that £240m extra funding would be given until 2011.

adapted from BBC News

[CKE 2010]

Zadanie 5.

TAKE YOUR MIND TO THE GYM

Your brain is like a muscle: the more you use it, the stronger it gets. For those who believe that claim, there are dozens of brain-boosting games now on the market. What makes them special is that the 5.1. (IMPROVE) _____ does not only manifest itself within the context of the game but in the real world as well.

On the face of it, this makes a lot of sense. It is well known that older people who stay mentally active are more 5.2. (RESIST) _____ to mental decline according to the popular 'use it or lose it' hypothesis. If it works for older people, shouldn't it work for everybody else?

5.3. (FORTUNATE) _____ for the wannabe genius, there are no simple answers. While there is no 5.4. (SHORT) _____ of studies suggesting that some mental functions can be trained, most companies offering brain-training games do not specify how their product will change your brain.

Although these games may or may not turn intellectual zeros into heroes, many 5.5. (PSYCHIATRY) _____ use them as a miracle cure for their patients. This, perhaps, is where brain training will have its greatest impact – not as a brain gym, but as an effective 5.6. (TREAT) _____ for people with serious mental health problems or brain injury.

adapted from www.newscientist.com

[CKE 2011]

Zadanie 6.

Few 6.1. (FOREIGN) _____ have been lucky enough to set foot on Tibetan soil – Alec Le Sueur spent five extraordinary years there, working for an international hotel chain. Against the breathtaking beauty of the Himalayas he unfolds a 6.2. (HIGH) _____ amusing and politically enlightening account of his experiences. Fly infestations at state banquets, hopeful groups of mountaineers preparing for their Everest adventure, the unbelievable Miss Tibet 6.3. (COMPETE) _____, an unexpected delivery of live snakes, insurmountable communication problems and a dead guest are just some of the entertainments to be found at the 'Fawlty Towers' of Lhasa. Daily challenges are increased by the fragile political situation. Le Sueur examines the 6.4. (INTRIGUE) _____ cultural background of Tibet, thus providing a fascinating insight into a country which still remains hardly 6.5. (PENETRATE) _____ to today's traveller.

from The Hotel on the Roof of the World by Alec Le Sueur

WF – Extended Matura
[CKE 2012]
Zadanie 7.

WHY DO CELEBRITIES GET HONORARY DEGREES?

Should the fact that Sex in the City actress Kim Cattrall and Pirates of the Caribbean actor Orlando Bloom collected honorary degrees give pause for serious thought? They were not the only ones on a list of similarly honoured celebrities. But who really benefits? And who pays for this 7.1. _____ (FOOLISH)?

At a time when university degrees have been devalued, shouldn't universities reconsider the message they are giving the real world? University staff should set an example to their students by nominating individuals who really deserve it, who 7.2. _____ (DEEP) their learning and 7.3. _____ (QUIET) do something worthwhile, people who become famous due to their scientific work, and not to the media 7.4. _____ (COVER) they get. Getting a degree requires plenty of hard work and students should be prepared for this. If any film star or musician can get an honorary degree for nothing, we'd better stop awarding them altogether. Sex in the City may be enjoyable in the lives of many students but the real world is a lot less 7.5. _____ (GLAMOUR).

adapted from www.guardian.co.uk

[CKE 2012 CZERWIEC]
Zadanie 8.

NONJA – THE CREATIVE ORANGUTAN

Who is Nonja, you may ask? She is in fact an 8.1. _____ (EXTREME) creative 33-year-old orangutan.

Nonja's handiwork has been viewed by tens of thousands of fans after a zoo 8.2. _____ (KEEP) at Vienna's Schoenbrunn Zoo in Austria decided to give her a digital camera and set up a Facebook page for her. Nonja just takes pictures of the world around and after that, zoo workers 8.3. _____ (LOAD) these snaps to her Facebook page. On her page there are slightly 8.4. _____ (BLUR) images of Nonja climbing rope, alongside images of food and her companion's shaggy red-brown fur. These images have earned lots of positive 8.5. _____ (RECOGNISE) from fans.

“Publishing the pictures is an attempt to perceive the world through her eyes and see what she thinks is important. She's very artistic,” one zoo worker informed us.

Nonja turned to photography after a spell as a painter where her works often reach up to $3,400 at auctions.

adapted from www.guy-sports.com

[CKE 2013]
Zadanie 9.

AIRBAGS FOR MOBILES

Jeff Bezos has applied for a patent for airbags for mobile phones. We are all familiar with airbag technology in cars. We could soon see them as 9.1. (OPTION) _____ add-ons when we buy a new mobile or smartphone. Mr Bezos says the tiny airbags inside the phones would offer maximum protection for a cell phone if someone dropped it. The airbags would deploy 9.2. (AUTOMATIC) _____ after the phone's built-in accelerometer detected that it was falling.

The patent submitted by Mr Bezos contains other 9.3. (SAFE) _____ features. He suggests using a laser or radar to work out the distance between the phone and the ground to determine when to deploy the airbags. Other 9.4. (SUGGEST) _____ include springs that would be released from the phone so that the phone would bounce when it hit the ground, and a gyroscope that controls tiny jets of compressed air that would change the angle of the device in mid-air. This would 9.5. (ABLE) _____ the phone to change its 'flight path' to ensure a smoother landing on impact.

adapted from www.breakingnewsenglish.com

[CKE 2014]
Zadanie 10.

WHY CAN'T YOU GET A SONG OUT OF YOUR HEAD?

An iPhone application can teach you a foreign language by using melodious music and rhythmic repetitions of essential words and phrases. This combination causes the new words to literally ring in your ears, making learning a language 10.1. (EFFORT) _____ and enjoyable.

The application has been based on the concept of earworms. The term earworms refers to 10.2. (CATCH) _____ tunes of the songs which you hear a few times and then just can't get out of your head. Rhythm and words, i.e. songs and verses, have always been a very powerful memory aid. 10.3. (ADVERT) _____ know only too well how powerful music can be in getting the message across with brainwashing jingles and soundbites.

The idea is as simple as it is old. Before the age of writing, ancient historical events were presented in verse and song forms so that they were easy to 10.4. (MEMORY) _____. In his book Songlines, Bruce Chatwin gives the example of Australian Aborigines who were able to navigate their way across hundreds of miles of desert to their ancestral hunting grounds without maps. How was it possible? Thanks to the 10.5. (PRECISE) _____ of the descriptions given in the lyrics of their traditional songs.

adapted from www.earwormsmobile.com

[CKE 2014 GRUDZIEŃ]
Zadanie 11.

regard	vision	suit	suspect	aware	look

ONLINE DATING

Looking for Mr or Ms Right and checking your e-mail at the same moment? You are not alone. While some still view online dating with 11.1. _____, millions of people treat it as an alternative to blind dates. It's a great solution for shy people, who in reality are too nervous to socialize.

Online daters have a wide range of choices. If you prefer vegetarians, horse lovers or Star Trek fans, there is a niche dating site for you. For those obsessed with 11.2. _____, there are sites with a ban on acne, fat rolls, glasses and other supposedly unattractive characteristics. Just set your criteria and you'll be provided with the most 11.3. _____ match.

Many daters are lucky, finding life-long love or at least an exciting adventure. Others are not so lucky. However, 11.4. _____ of how two people meet, in person or online, there needs to be a "chemical reaction" between them.

adapted from www.southcoasttoday.com

[CKE 2015]
Zadanie 12.

ROUTE 66

Route 66, also colloquially known as the Main Street of America, was one of the first highways in the US. On maps, it starts in Chicago and ends about 2,400 miles further, in Santa Monica. But as an idea, Route 66 runs through the heart of American pop culture. Synonymous with the adventure of the open road, it has become virtually 12.1. (MORTAL) _____ in songs, on TV, in books, and in movies.

Route 66 served as a major path for those who migrated west. People doing business along the route became prosperous due to the growing 12.2. (POPULAR) _____ of the highway. Nowadays, these old businesses line the old route and are part of its appeal. It's one of the most 12.3. (CHARACTER) _____ features of this road. "It's America the way it used to be," says David Listokin, a professor at Rutgers University. “The restaurants and shops are 12.4. (INDIVIDUAL) _____ owned, so people can speak to the proprietors. Not like in chain stores.”

The road is no longer a highway and there are faster ways to get from Chicago to Santa Monica but many 12.5. (TRAVEL) _____ still prefer to explore the small towns by sticking to the old road.

adapted from www.cnbc.com

[CKE 2015 CZERWIEC]

Zadanie 13.

heavy	inspect	number	research	wrong	vanish

BERMUDA TRIANGLE MYSTERY

Scores of ships and planes 13.1. _____ without trace over the centuries in a vast area of ocean with imaginary points in Bermuda, Florida and Puerto Rico – the so-called Bermuda Triangle.

Christopher Columbus − on his first voyage of discovery − was the first person to record anomalous activities in the seas around Bermuda. While his ships were passing through the Sargasso Sea, the Italian explorer said they experienced erratic compass readings.

While it is believed that 13.2. _____ ships and airplanes have disappeared under highly unusual circumstances, the United States Coast Guard officials disagree with that assessment. They show statistics which demonstrate that the number of incidents is no larger than that of any other 13.3. _____ travelled region of the world.

Many of the alleged mysteries have proven not so mysterious upon close 13.4. _____, with inaccuracies and misinformation circulating over the decades.

adapted from http://bernews.com; www.world-mysteries.com

[CKE 2016 STARA MATURA]

Zadanie 14.

KINDNESS ONE

Leon Logothetis has embarked on a seemingly 14.1. (POSSIBLE) _____ mission: to circumnavigate the globe with no gas, no food, no money and no places to stay. He has relied solely on the 14.2. (GENEROUS) _____ of strangers to put him up, feed him and fuel his vintage yellow motorcycle. He calls his 14.3. (REMARK) _____ mission Kindness One and his motorcycle “the first ever vehicle powered solely by kindness.”

So far, Logothetis has proven that kindness is a quality not bound by borders. In Pittsburgh, he met a homeless man named Tony who, despite having hardly anything himself, gave Logothetis some clothes, a place to sleep for the night and food.

“I told him that he was the 14.4. (WEALTHY) _____ man I had ever met, because true wealth does not come in the form of a hefty bank account.” What Leon wants to emphasize in his blog is that true wealth comes in the form of a full heart and an overflowing spirit, both of which 14.5. (ABLE) _____ us to do noble deeds.

Leon keeps The Kindness Diaries in his blog, where he describes all the acts of kindness he has experienced.

adapted from www.perryellis.com

[CKE 2016]

Zadanie 15.

far	know	leave	near	profession	stay

DOGGIE DAYCARE

Ireland is a nation of dog-lovers, with over 600,000 dog owners. But as working lives get increasingly busy, thousands of pet owners wonder how to keep their dogs happy during a long day at work. Most dogs hate being 15.1. _____ alone for long, and they often show it by chewing the furniture or howling the house down. That's why many 15.2. _____ who work till late simply can't commit to a pet. However, there is a new generation of daycare facilities which offer a workable solution to pet-care needs. Thanks to them, owners have the chance to drop off their pet for the working day 15.3. _____ that the animal will get all the company it needs. Creedon's Doggie Daycare in Cork has been running for 15.4. _____ five years and is the longest established service of this kind in Ireland.

adapted from www.independent.ie

[CKE 2017]
Zadanie 16.

"FACIAL" CREDIT CARDS

Bank cards are already being replaced by smartphones and sophisticated watches that have payment technology built-in. But the latest threat to the plastic in your pocket could be your face – a Finnish company has launched the first ever payment platform completely based on facial 16.1. (RECOGNISE) _____. The system doesn't require a bank card or a phone – instead, a camera is positioned at the checkout and takes a photo of a shopper's face when they are ready to pay. It then scans a database for the face and matches it to stored payment details in order to complete the transaction. To 16.2. (SURE) _____ authorized access, the transaction will not gain acceptance until the customer confirms the match and clicks OK on a touchscreen.

According to financial sector representatives, using biometric information as authentication will 16.3. (REVOLUTION) _____ the whole banking system. Since the technology is capable of identifying even the smallest of distinguishing features of identical twins, it is expected to have a 16.4. (BENEFIT) _____ effect on the payment procedures, making them safer and more convenient for buyers.

The bad news is, however, that all interested in the service need to pay for such a privilege: the monthly fee depends on the user's 16.5. (EARN) _____ and the area in which the system is installed.

adapted from www.dailymail.co.uk

[CKE 2018]
Zadanie 17.

AIR FORCE ONE

Air Force One is a term used to describe any 17.1. (SPECIFIC) _____ designed aircraft carrying the President of the USA on board. These machines are packed with advanced secure communications equipment in order to fulfil the data protection 17.2. (REQUIRE) _____ in the event of an attack on the United States. The plane can be fuelled mid-air, which means that it has an almost 17.3. (LIMIT) _____ range and can stay in the air for long hours. Inside, the President enjoys a 17.4. (SPACE) _____ suite that features a large office and a conference room. Air Force One also holds a medical suite that can function as an operating theatre. A doctor is on board at all times. The plane also has enough room for the Secret Service agents, military and economic analysts, reporters, and other guests who 17.5. (COMPANY) _____ the President.

adapted from www.whitehouse.gov

WF – Extended Matura
[CKE 2018 CZERWIEC]
Zadanie 18.

THE GREAT CHINESE TRAFFIC JAM

If you are tempted to grumble about your own daily commute, spare a 18.1. (THINK) _____ for those caught up in the world's greatest traffic jam – on China's National Highway 110.

The mess began when the main artery from north-western China into the capital started being 18.2. (MODERN) _____. When the roadworks began, the traffic volume became unmanageable and soon the jam stretched for about 100 kilometres. When they were not standing still, 18.3. (DRIVE) _____ could advance at what literally approximated a snail's pace: ranging from one half kilometre to two kilometres per day. The jam lasted for about two weeks.

Almost as 18.4. (REMARK) _____ as the scale of the congestion is the suddenness with which it broke up. By the morning of the 15th day, journalists reported that the congestion had vanished into thin air – and that vehicles were moving again!

adapted from www.economist.com

[CKE 2019]
Zadanie 19.

CAT CUDDLER MAY BE YOUR NEW DREAM JOB

Drop whatever you're currently doing and hand in your resignation letter! One vet clinic in Ireland has just announced they are hiring full-time cat cuddlers. So, if you are 19.1. (TRUE) _____ passionate about animals, this may be the chance you've been waiting for all your life!

Before you board the next flight to Ireland, find out what the Just Cats vet clinic in Dublin is looking for. Its managers strongly 19.2. (COURAGE) _____ applications from people with a lot of 'catitude', who would love to help animals in need. The job offer specifies that they're looking for people able to befriend cats with ease. The ideal candidates have to be 19.3. (RELY) _____ and must have gentle and strong hands in order to pet cats for long periods of time. They also have to be capable of cat whispering to calm the nerves of the furry patients. An 19.4. (ABLE) _____ to understand different types of purring is an evident advantage.

What are you waiting for? Just mail your CV and cover letter to them and then get ready to make a 19.5. (LIVE) _____ out of petting kittens all day.

http://www.boredpanda.com/just-cats-vet-clinic-hires-cat-cuddler/

[CKE 2019 CZERWIEC]
Zadanie 20.

long	remain	advertise	necessary	sure	exist

THE ART OF THE TRAILER

No doubt everyone is familiar with the idea of a trailer. It's a kind of a(n) 20.1. _____ of a film which is about to come out. Since the purpose of the trailer is to attract an audience to the film, the excerpts are usually taken from the most exciting, funny, or otherwise noteworthy parts of the film but in an abbreviated form, and usually without a spoiler effect. For this purpose, the scenes are not 20.2. _____ shown in the order in which they appear in the film. A trailer has to achieve its aim in less than 2 minutes and 30 seconds, which is the total 20.3. _____ allowed by the Motion Picture Association of America. Each distributor is allowed to exceed this time limit once a year, if they feel it is important for a particular film. The main purpose of a trailer 20.4. _____ the same: to sell the film.

adapted from http://filmshortage.com

[CKE 2020]
Zadanie 21.

Celebrity culture and television shows such as Big Brother have damaged the 21.1. (CONFIDE) _____ of a generation of British youngsters, according to a survey of 16- to 24-year-olds. The research found that 82% of British youngsters said the UK's celebrity culture had created "unreachable role models" which were harmful to their self-esteem.

Professor Tony Chapman said that the 21.2. (REPRESENT) _____ sample of 1,500 young adults was part of a long-term study into youth attitudes. The research carried out by O2, the mobile phone company, looked at the generation who entered 21.3. (ADULT) _____ and the job market during the recession. "Young people," he said, "are frustrated by celebrity culture because they often hear, "you can be whatever you want even if your skills are 21.4. (LIMIT) _____, just by going on Big Brother." They don't think about more down-to-earth options like "how am I going to find 21.5. (AFFORD) _____ accommodation" and "how am I going to get myself a job that's secure". The mismatch between these two things causes a very large number of people to feel a loss of their self-esteem.

adapted from www.guardian.co.uk

[CKE 2020 LIPIEC COVID]
Zadanie 22.

approve	infect	expect	low	persist	revolution

SUPER-BANANAS

Vitamin A deficiency in developing countries causes many deaths among children. It also leads to blindness and increases the risk of severe 22.1. _____. Luckily, there is some hope for people suffering from the deficiency. Researchers from Queensland University of Technology have developed a 22.2. _____ new food: super-bananas. The fruit was created by fusing genes from a species of banana rich in pro-vitamin A, grown in Papua New Guinea, with the mass-produced bananas which most people are familiar with. Scientists claim that the new super-bananas could 22.3. _____ vulnerability to disease because they contain unusually high levels of beneficial vitamins.

A group of researchers working under Professor J. Dales have already trialled growing the super-bananas in Australia, where the fruit exceeded their 22.4. _____ by producing double the anticipated level of pro-vitamin A.

adapted from www.standard.co.uk

[CKE 2021 MARZEC]
Zadanie 23.

THE HISTORY OF DENTISTRY

The British Dental Association Museum tells the fascinating story of how people have looked after their teeth − or not! − in the past. It houses the largest collection of instruments and equipment used in dental 23.1. (TREAT) _____ in the UK. The museum began in 1919 when Lilian Lindsay, the first British female to qualify as a dentist, donated several old dental instruments to the association. She had been storing them in a box under her bed.

The museum was developed 23.2. (PRIMARY) _____ for the education of British Dental Association members. However, in 1967, when the BDA moved to its present headquarters, the museum opened its doors to the general public. The collections are 23.3. (ACCESS) _____ through displays, education services, and in the virtual environment. The museum aims at influencing the 23.4. (PERCEIVE) _____ of the science, practice and social impact of dentistry.

adapted from www.bda.org

[CKE 2022 CZERWIEC]

Zadanie 24.

explain	occasion	frequent	member	vary	popular

WHAT ARE THE ROOTS OF "OK"?

OK is an American English word denoting approval, acceptance or agreement. OK has been described as the most 24.1. _____ used word on the planet. There have been numerous attempts to trace the origin of OK, but many of the 24.2. _____ that have emerged are pure speculation.

One likely theory is that the term originated during the American presidential elections in 1840 as the Democratic Party slogan. Their candidate was President Martin Van Buren. A group of his supporters formed the "OK Club". OK stood for the initials of Van Buren's nickname, Old Kinderhook. The abbreviation gained 24.3. _____ among voters and started to be used all over the world in subsequent years.

Another theory with at least some degree of credibility is that OK was first used by slaves from West Africa as it meant all right or yes indeed in 24.4. _____ West African languages. However, little evidence has been found to support this theory.

adapted from www.lexico.com

[CKE 2023 PRZYKŁADOWY]

Zadanie 25.

approximate	neighbour	reliable	main	change	move

SHARE YOUR CAR, MAKE FRIENDS, SAVE THE PLANET

Few people still argue about the causes of climate change, but you may not know that soon 25.1. _____ 30% of the UK's total greenhouse gas emissions will come from transport. The lesson from the last ten years in London is that change can be brought about by investment priorities in public transport and charges for the driving of cars. In the capital, attitudes 25.2. _____; nowadays few people drive into central London. Yet, outside of London, the only option for most people is the car because public transport in rural areas is simply 25.3. _____. About 85% of commuters who use cars travel on their own, although many of them live in the same 25.4. _____ as their colleagues. Most of those journeys could be combined. It sounds utopian, but all it takes is the breaking down of the social barriers created by sheets of metal and glass.

Na podstawie: http://news.bbc.co.uk

[CKE 2022 GRUDZIEŃ]

Zadanie 26.

26.1. Mark has always been a (COMPETE) _____ student. He always does his best to be better than others.

26.2. There is a problem with this virtual assistant. If I don't speak clearly to it, the device tends to (UNDERSTAND) _____ my instructions.

26.3. Despite Clare's rather poor performance in most sports disciplines, she is (EXCEPTION) _____ good at swimming. She even broke the school record during the last Sports Day.

26.4. The hikers were foolish to cross this bridge. It was really (SAFE) _____. They were lucky it didn't collapse.

[CKE 2023]
Zadanie 27.

THE STICK LIBRARY

What's a dog without a good stick to chew on or fetch? That's exactly what a 59-year-old man asked himself when he found out there was a 27.1. (SHORT) _____ of good sticks for his dog, Bella, to play with at the new dog park in Kaiapoi, New Zealand. Instead of complaining, Andrew Taylor took 27.2. (ACT) _____ and created a stick library. He collected sticks lying around near his house. Then he cleaned the sticks using sand paper until they were smooth, crafted a box out of wood to hold the sticks and engraved his box with the title "Stick Library". His gift to the new dog park was ready.

By calling it a "Stick Library" Taylor wants to 27.3. (COURAGE) _____ everyone to return the sticks after they have played with their dogs. The idea has been a hit with local dog owners, who know very well that the search for a good stick is not always very 27.4. (SUCCESS) _____. That's why the idea of a stick library makes perfect sense to them.

Na podstawie: www.interestingengineering.com

[CKE 2023 CZERWIEC]
Zadanie 28.

THE CLIFTON SUSPENSION BRIDGE

The Clifton Suspension Bridge is one of Bristol's most recognisable structures. Designed by Isambard Kingdom Brunel, the famous 19th-century engineer who played a 28.1. (SIGNIFY) _____ role in Britain's Industrial Revolution, the bridge marks a turning point in the history of engineering.

The design of the bridge was extremely challenging. Besides, financial difficulties and all sorts of 28.2. (AGREEMENT) _____ led to long delays in the construction of the bridge, and it was left unfinished for years.

Two engineers who continued to work on the bridge decided to modify Brunel's original plan by 28.3. (WIDE) _____ the roadway. It was not until five years after Brunel's death that the bridge was finally unveiled. It remains one of Britain's best-loved landmarks. The Clifton Suspension Bridge has been the venue for a 28.4. (VARY) _____ of events. For instance, the first modern bungee jump took place here in 1979, and in 2012 an Olympic torchbearer ran across the bridge with the Olympic flame en route to London.

Na podstawie: www. thehistorypress.co.uk

[CKE 2024]
Zadanie 29.

MOOSE MUST STOP LICKING CARS

There are plenty of amusing road signs around the world.

This winter, pictures of an official road sign from a Canadian National Park were 29.1. (WIDE) _____ shared on social media. The sign warned drivers not to let moose lick their cars. Moose, large deer living in North America, are a frequent sight in Canada, and their 29.2. (ADDICT) _____ to salt is well-known. During the winter months, road maintenance services use salt to 29.3. (SURE) _____ drivers' safety and to melt snow and ice on the slippery roads. It is not uncommon to see moose licking salt off the roads. But now it seems that moose have developed a 29.4. (PREFER) _____ for licking cars which have been splashed with road salt. Recently, the moose have decided that the salt found on vehicles is particularly delicious. But if you let moose lick the salt on your car, the animals may lose their natural fear of cars, which could lead to serious accidents.

Na podstawie: edition.cnn.com; Źródło: jalopnik.com

[CKE 2024 CZERWIEC]

Zadanie 30.

common	explain	know	maintain	offend	similar

KIWIS

Why are New Zealanders called Kiwis? Are they named after the fuzzy Chinese gooseberry also 30.1. _____ as the kiwi fruit? Not at all. In fact, the word 'kiwi' originally referred to a bird which is native to New Zealand. The kiwi bird emblem was first seen on the badges of New Zealand soldiers in the 19th century.

It is no coincidence that the Chinese gooseberry, which flourishes in New Zealand, was renamed kiwi fruit. The reason is its striking 30.2. _____ to the iconic bird – both are brown and fluffy.

Now, Kiwi is also a 30.3. _____ used nickname for all New Zealanders.

It is absolutely OK to call a New Zealander a Kiwi. Some nicknames for people's nationalities may be considered 30.4. _____ but Kiwi is not one of them, so you won't risk hurting anyone's feelings if you use it.

Na podstawie: exploringkiwis.com

[CKE 2024 GRUDZIEŃ]

Zadanie 31.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF ORIGAMI

You've probably heard of "origami". The goal of origami is to transform a square sheet of paper into a shape, such as a flower or a bird, through 31.1. (SKILL) _____ folding. The term originates from two Japanese words and means "paper folding". Unfortunately, coming up with an exact timeline for the invention of origami is a 31.2. (CHALLENGE) _____ task. It is generally accepted that paper was invented around 105 A.D. in China. During the sixth century the use of paper reached Japan, where different 31.3. (POSSIBLE) _____ for creating art from paper were discovered.

Originally, the use of scissors and glue was not allowed, but later standards have changed considerably. Consequently, cutting or gluing is now sometimes used to stabilize the final shape. Another way in which origami has evolved is that shapes are no longer made 31.4. (EXCLUSIVE) _____ with original origami paper. Now people even make them from banknotes in order to present a gift of cash in a unique way.

Na podstawie: www.thesprucecrafts.com

[CKE 2025]

Zadanie 32.

clear	concern	follow	harm	important	prepare

WHY DO POLAR BEARS HAVE BLACK SKIN?

Pictures of polar bears often show white bears in white surroundings. In some languages, they are even known as 'ice bears' or 'white bears'. However, the truth 32.1. _____ the colours of a polar bear is more complex than most people think.

New-born polar bear cubs fit within the palm of your hand; they are blind and toothless, with pink skin showing through a short white fuzz. Even their little noses and foot pads are pink! But at the age of 3–4 months, their pink skin turns black. Because of their thickening coat of fur, the now black skin is 32.2. _____ seen only on their nose, lips, and foot pads. Having black skin is of great 32.3.

_____ to the bears. First, darker colours are better at absorbing heat from the sun, which is an advantage to a polar bear trying to stay warm in the Arctic. Second, dark colours give better protection against 32.4. _____ UV radiation from the sun. The sunlight polar bears are exposed to is intensified when it is reflected off the snow, ice and water that make up the bears' environment.

Na podstawie: polarbearsinternational.org

[CKE 2026]
Zadanie 33.

THE WOODEN CITY OF THE FUTURE

A Swedish company is building a new estate in an old 33.1. (INDUSTRY) _____ zone in Stockholm, which is currently filled with former factory buildings and car parks. This isn't an uncommon enterprise. There's one peculiarity, though. Everything's built out of a special kind of wood, called "mass timber". Mass timber is made of compressed wooden layers stacked together, which gives this building material extra 33.2. (STRONG) _____. It also avoids the massive carbon footprint of standard construction materials like concrete and steel. The new estate will include 7,000 new offices and 2,000 housing units, along with restaurants, shops and fitness centres. By adding more facilities to the immediate 33.3. (NEIGHBOUR) _____, the project aims to support the idea of the 15-minute city, where it's possible to get everywhere you need to go on a typical day on foot or by bicycle.

Building with wood has more advantages than just environmental ones, including the fact that the construction process itself can be both faster and quieter. And there's evidence that living and working in wooden buildings contributes to well-being – studies have found that it 33.4. (GRADUAL) _____ reduces stress and improves focus. Will the project be a success? We're soon going to find out because the first buildings are to be completed in 2027.

Na podstawie: www.fastcompany.com

[CKE 2026 CZERWIEC]
Zadanie 34.

LIGHT POLLUTION

Most of us are familiar with air pollution and water pollution, but did you know that light can also be a pollutant? The excessive use of artificial light outdoors, called light pollution, is affecting human health, wildlife behaviour and even our ability to observe the stars. It has also started to impact the environment 34.1. (NEGATIVE) _____. For thousands of years, the natural darkness at night has helped us to survive. It also tells our bodies that it's time to go to bed. Without it, people can have a hard time falling asleep. Until Edison invented the lightbulb and people started using 34.2. (ELECTRIC) _____ to light their cities, the night sky was lit only by the moon and the stars. Sailors used the stars to navigate while at sea. The stars also helped people mark the 34.3. (PASS) _____ of time.

In addition, many artists took inspiration from the night sky. In 1889, Vincent van Gogh painted one of the world's most 34.4. (IMPRESS) _____ paintings, The Starry Night. If he were alive today, he would not be able to see so many stars in the night sky due to light pollution.

Na podstawie: www.education.nationalgeographic.org

[CKE 2008 INFORMATOR]
Zadanie 35.

Some of the most loaded words in language are those associated with the way society talks about itself, and especially about groups of people whom it perceives to be less 35.1. _____ (FORTUNE) or oppressed. The most sensitive domains are to do with gender and race. During the 1980s, an increasing number of people tried to avoid using 35.2. _____ (OFFEND) words or terms which might be treated as such.

Critics of the trend, which is often referred to as political correctness, argue that the search for a 'caring' lexicon is 35.3. _____ (POINT), as long as the situation which the language reflects does not change. It is not as easy to manipulate language as the reformers think. 35.4. _____ (SATISFACTION) with one term tends to spread to the new word, as has been seen with such sequences as Negro, which became black, then Afro-American, which was finally replaced by African-American.

In the early 1990s, many people reacted strongly to what they saw as a trend towards terminological absurdity. One 35.5. _____ (CRITICISE) of the practice of political correctness is that it threatens the freedom of speech.

Adapted from: "The Cambridge Encyclopedia of the English Language" by David Crystal

---

[CKE 2015 INFORMATOR]

Zadanie 36.

come	high	steep	have	good	make

SPACE TOURISM FOR THE REST OF US

For more than 50 years, governments had the monopoly on space travel. Until April 28, 2001 when Dennis Tito 36.1. _____ history by becoming the world's first space tourist. An orbital getaway is still only for the world's wealthiest adventurers, though; just seven tourists 36.2. _____ the opportunity to go into orbit with Space Adventures so far. But that doesn't mean an out-of-this-world experience is completely out of reach for those of us who have to live on a slightly lower budget. For those who want a taste of space travel without spending a fortune, a sub-orbital experience is the next 36.3. _____ thing. The cheapest trip right now is a flight with Zero Gravity Corp., a private company whose "mission is to make the excitement and adventure of space travel easily accessible to the public." Participants board a Boeing 727, which climbs to a high altitude and then dives 36.4. _____ to give passengers the feeling of weightlessness.

adapted from www.cbc.ca

[CKE 2023 INFORMATOR]

Zadanie 37.

long	remain	advertise	necessary	sure	exist

THE ART OF THE TRAILER

No doubt everyone is familiar with the idea of a trailer. It's a kind of 37.1. _____ for a film which is about to come out. Since the purpose of the trailer is to attract an audience to the film, the excerpts are usually taken from the most exciting, funny, or otherwise noteworthy parts of the film but in an abbreviated form, and usually without a spoiler effect. For this purpose, the scenes are not 37.2. _____ shown in the order in which they appear in the film. A trailer has to achieve its aim in less than 2 minutes and 30 seconds, which is the total 37.3. _____ allowed by the Motion Picture Association of America. Each distributor is allowed to exceed this time limit once a year, if they feel it is important for a particular film. The main purpose of a trailer 37.4. _____ the same: to sell the film.

Na podstawie: http://filmshortage.com